From Krakow to Warsaw with the Zettler Roadshow Truck

The Zettler Roadshow Truck has recently completed a tour through Eastern Europe covering the Czech Republic and Poland where it visited four cities over five days . Bringing the latest information and training in state of the art fire detection products to hundreds of customers across the region, the Zettler Roadshow has once again been a popular event.

The Zettler Roadshow Truck travelled through Poland in partnership with Tyco key distributor Lanster, who invited its customers to learn more about the latest product developments and technologies offered by Zettler.

The tour started in Krakow, made its way through Wroclaw then Poznan and ended in Warsaw with hundreds of consultants, engineers and end users visiting and taking part in the training and education from our technical experts on the truck. All together more than 400 companies participated in the tour.

During the roadshow, Account Manager for Poland, Krzysztof Klasa, explained the benefits of Zettler's latest touchscreen control panel range, PROFILE, and gave a live demonstration of the panel in action, showing customers just how intuitive and user friendly the panel's colour user interface is. Customers were also given an overview of Tyco Expert Graphics (TXG) and Remote Service. Remote Service allows multiple networked fire detection systems located all over the world to be monitored and managed over IP from one central location.

TXG is a Microsoft based Emergency Management System designed specifically for managing fire alarms and other emergencies. Its benefits include presenting alarm information clearly and precisely, speeding up response times and ensuring that the most appropriate response decisions are made. TXG is a server based software, meaning it can also be managed and monitored remotely and is fully compatible with the full range of Zettler control panels.

On board the truck, product demonstrations for customers were run in groups of 15-20, 3-5 times per day which included not only PROFILE panel but also the 3oTec detector, flame detector, Remote Services and TXG.

From Krakow to Warsaw with the Zettler Roadshow Truck

Talking about the roadshow CEO at Lanster, Piotr commented “It has been really informative to see the Zettler range and learn about the system’s capabilities from the experts at Tyco. The roadshow has been a great success, we have had fantastic attendance in every location, which shows customers are really interested in the products ZETTLER has to offer. Having the truck here to demonstrate Zettler’s technologies really brings the products to life. We hope to see it again next year.”

The ZETTLER Truck Roadshow continues its tour in France for Preventica, Lyon from 13th – 15th October and then onto a five city tour including Paris, Boudreaux, Montpellier, Angers and Rouen.
